INDIANS WIN FIRST GAMES

Emerge Victors In the Opening Clashes With Fort Monroe and U. T. S.

Fort Monroe Game

William and Mary began its 1922 season Saturday by winning from the Fort Monroe nine in a closely contested game by the score of 5 to 4. The features of the game were two home runs, one by J. Chandler and the other by C. Dutton, of the Artillerymen.

Stephens began the game for the Indians, and was greeted by a triple, double and single by the first three men who faced him. The visitors only scored one run in the first inning, notwithstanding the three hits, two of which were for extra bases. The big right hander got through the second frame all right, but in the third inning the visitors got next to his offerings, for 5 hits, including a home run yielding a total of three runs. Thompson relieved him in the fourth, and pitched beautiful ball, with splendid backing by the Indian outfield and infield. In six innings the Artillerymen got three hits off Thompson, one of which was an infield scratch. Thompson fanned seven men. In the eighth inning C. Dutton led off with a double, and Sherlock, who followed him, hit a clean single to left field. A beautiful throw by Harwood nailed Dutton at the plate.

Buchanan pitched a good game for the visitors, allowing ten hits. He was slow in getting started, however, and the local tossers scored four runs off five hits in the first frame. Hicks led off with a single, and took second on Cooke's sacrifice. Lowe singled, and Hicks scored, Lowe was forced at second by Cobb. J. Chandler scored Cobb and himself with a homer over the left field fence. F. Chandler doubled, and came home on Chalkley's single. The visiting pitcher settled after the first inning, and allowed only two hits, one of them a scratch, between then and the seventh, when

Debate Tuesday

The Debate Council announce that the second of the inter-collegiate debates will be held with Richmond College in chapel at 8 p. m., Tuesday, April 11th. T. H. Mawson and A. J. Winder, debating the negative, will represent William and Mary. At the same time Dickinson and Duke, debating the affirmative, will encounter the Spiders at Westhampton. This is the first of the joint debates to be held with Richmond College, and the team is confident of winning both encounters. Members of the team took advantage of the debate with Colby College to strengthen their arguments and rebuttals considerably.

GOOCH RETURNS TO OXFORD FOR DEGREE

Popular Professor And Coach Returns To England In the Fall

Professor Robert K. Gooch will return to Oxford University next fall to study for a Ph.D. degree. Professor Gooch was the Rhodes Scholar from Virginia at the time the war broke out and had been at Oxford for two years; leaving college at that time he saw service in the French and American armies. Professor Gooch has only two more years of study before securing his degree.

"Bobby," the most noted athlete at the University of Virginia in his day, is now coaching the track team at this college in addition to his teaching. He will be greatly missed both on the athletic field and in the class room. Professor Gooch has made himself very popular here, both among the students and the citizens of the town; and it is felt that the college will lose a splendid professor when he leaves. The students wish him all success in his further studies.

JONES AT HEAD OF NEW DEPARTMENT

Becomes Director of Physical Education In Fall Under West Law

(The News-Leader)

Lee Tucker Jones, director of physical education of Richmond public schools since 1910, and an expert in his work, severs his connections with the school board at the close of the present session, and will give all his time to the development of athletics at William and Mary College. He becomes professor of physical education there, and will have a seat on the faculty.

Mr. Jones' task will be to furnish men and women athletic directors to the secondary schools of Virginia, under the provisions of the West law.

Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, President of William and Mary College, says Mr. Jones' work will not overlap into present branches of athletics. However, Jones will coach track, and also give his time to basket ball, although he will not make trips.

TRACK TEAM TO MEET KEYDETS

Indian Cinder Path Men Hold Dual Meet Tomorrow With V. M. I. Squad Here

V. M. I. and William and Mary meet in a dual track meet here tomorrow, either at Cary Field or the Fair Grounds. It will be the first intercollegiate track meet held at William and Mary in a number of years.

Team Working Hard

The local squad, under the direction of Coach Gooch, has been getting in some good practice since the competitive field meet, and the Indians are expected to show up well against the Keydets.

Dietz Wins Field Meet

"Ernie" Dietz repeated his last year's triumph last Saturday when he again proved high scorer in the intramural track meet. Dietz won first place in the 440, broad jump, high and low hurdles. He beat the quarter mile mark set at Richmond last year between the Spiders and Indians, running the distance in 59 seconds, as compared with a minute flat.

"Fobbie" Cobb won the 100 yard dash, and led nearly to the wire in the 220. Metcalf ran second and first respectively in the two events. He and Cobb should give the Keydet sprinters some trouble.

The half mile and mile were easily

LOSE DEBATE

W. & M. Defeated In First Inter-collegiate Contest By Colby College Debaters

A large number of students and townspeople attended the debate with Colby College in chapel Tuesday night, at which time the first of the inter-collegiate debates arranged by the Debate Council was held. The decision of the judges was unanimously in favor of Colby College, represented by Forrest Merle Royal and George Bernard Wolstenholme, who upheld the negative of the proposition, "Resolved, that the principle of the closed shop is justifiable."

W. A. Dickinson and C. J. Duke, Jr., representing William and Mary, ably upheld the affirmative, but showed the need of training and the

ARE YOU GOING?

The second co-ed dance of the year given by the women's German Club will be held in Jefferson Hall gymnasium tonight. Unique decorations, good music by the McDaniel orchestra, of Newport News, thirty or forty visiting women, and plenty of stags, will all, it is believed, contribute to a most enjoyable dancing affair.

PRESIDENT'S HOUSE THREATENED BY FIRE MONDAY NIGHT; DAMAGE, $10,000

Flames Gut Hallways and Third Floor; Destroyed Students' Personal Effects

Built In 1732

The famous old President's House at the college was seriously threatened by fire Monday night, when flames of unknown origin, beginning in a closet in the hall of the lower floor, gutted the halls of the first, second, and third floors, and the rooms on the third floor. The damage is estimated at $10,000, which is partly covered by insurance.

Students Fight Fire

The fire began about 7:45 and in a few seconds spread all over the staircase, and into the rooms on the third floor. An alarm was sounded, and a large number of students were immediately at work moving furniture and fixtures from the threatened parts of the building, and getting the Members of the team recently selected to represent William and Mary in Intercollegiate Debates, reading from left to right, as follows—A. J. Winder, T. H. Mawson, C. J. Duke, and W. A. Dickinson. Duke and Dickinson debated against Colby College here last Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. All four are members of the Phoenix Literary Society.

Tucker Lectures Here Tomorrow

Congressman From Tenth District Delivers Twelfth Marshall-Wythe Lecture

Hon. Harry St. George Tucker, recently elected member of Congress from the Tenth Congressional District of Virginia, will deliver the twelfth of the series of constitutional lectures being given at the college under the auspices of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship, in the college chapel tomorrow morning. The subject of Mr. Tucker's lecture will be "The Critical Period," a subject in the constitutional history of the early days of the last of the Eighteenth Century which should prove intensely interesting to the students and faculty members.

Mr. Tucker is one of the most prominent men in the public life of Virginia today. He is a distinguished lawyer and has always been closely interested in the affairs of the Democratic party. He was defeated last summer by the present Governor of Virginia in a Democratic primary for governor. He was recently made the representative in Congress for the Tenth District, being elected without opposition. He was at one time President of the American Bar Association, and for some years filled the chair of Constitutional Law at Washington and Lee University.

Easter Dances To Be Held April 20-21

A definite decision to hold the Easter Dances on April 20-21, was made at a meeting of the Cotillion Club held last Friday. The officers of the Club were named a committee to decide upon the music, and their choice will be announced before the Easter holidays. It is thought the music will either be furnished by Garber-Davis, or Sam Brown's orchestra.

The proposal was made to hold an Inter-Fraternity dance during Finals, to which the whole student body would be invited. This plan met with hearty approval of those present. Announcement regarding this will be made later.

Library Receives a Number New Books

The books on subjects of debate and general literary society work, which were presented to the college library by the Philomathean Literary Society, have been received. Included in this gift is a complete set of the works of Emerson, Poe, and Richard Harding Davis; and six volumes by Charles Darwin.

It is to be hoped that the other library societies will follow the example of the Philomatheans, for few gifts, it is pointed out, can be of more use to the college than books on timely subjects, or of deep literary interest.

FOLK DANCERS EXHIBIT

An exhibition to show the social as well as the physical value of folk dancing was given by the women of the sophomore gym class in Jefferson Gymnasium last Saturday night. Bohemian, Lithuanian, American, Danish, and Czecho-Slovakian folk dances were given by the fourteen participants, accompanied by Margaret Keister. The Sutler twins sang a folk song duet. To show the simplicity of the dances, each of the women chose a man from the large audience in the gallery, and with him as a partner went through some of the dances again. The antics of the hastily called men participants brought a number of laughs from the spectators.

The next exhibition will be given by the freshman women's gym class the latter part of the month.

Constitution Was To Perfect Union

Dr. Black Says Resulted From Need For "More Perfect Union"

Necessity for the formation of a "more perfect Union" led to the establishment of the Constitution of the United States, providing for a central authority with adequate powers and adequate means of enforcement, Dr. Henry Campbell Black, of Washington, D. C., one of the most distinguished legal writers in this country, said last Saturday in delivering the eleventh of a series of constitutional lectures being given at the college under the auspices of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship.

The constitution, Dr. Black declared, is the most wonderful and successful instrument of government ever devised by the intelligence of man. The union of the colonies under the Articles of Confederation was at best a weak one, the speaker stated. The central authority, vested in the Congress, had no authority over the States other than in the form of recommendations. Though States could obey these acts of Congress as they saw fit, he said.

Dr. Black traced in an interesting and instructive way the causes leading to the first Continental Congress, the Declaration of Independence, the adoption of the Articles of Confederation, and culminating in the establishment of the Constitution.

The first Continental Congress, he said, was not a constitutional assembly, but a revolutionary one. It was equally as legal, he said, as the drawing up of Magna Carta, or the placing of William of Orange on the throne of England. All were the result of political expediency, he said.

The Declaration of Independence, Dr. Black said, was not a complaint against misgovernment, but was rather a complaint against the infringement of the rights of free men by the English government.

DR. HOKE LECTURES

At the meeting of the Virginia State Teachers' Association, of District "E," held in Danville last Friday, Dr. K. J. Hoke, delivered a lecture on "A Revision of the Elementary Curriculum." Today Dr. Hoke will speak at Norfolk before the teachers of District "B" on the "Use of Intelligence and Achievement Tests."

It is interesting to note that S. B. Hall, Principal of Danville High School and Vice-President of the Virginia Teachers' Association, and S. A. McDonald, Vice-President of the Virginia Teachers' Association of District "B," both are graduates of the College of William and Mary. Lectures of similar import are being delivered throughout the State by members of the William and Mary faculty. These lectures are important phases of William and Mary's effort to bring education to the people.

HOLD THE ORATORICAL PRELIMINARIES SOON

The Debate Council announce the holding of the Oratorical Contest shortly after the Easter holidays. In the meantime they urge all who are in any wise interested to take part in the preliminaries which will be held in the respective society halls in the near future. The debate with Colby did much to arouse greater interest in public speaking, and the Council expects a goodly number of participants when the Oratorical Contest is finally held.

EASTER-TIME MODES

Introducing Intriguing
Wearables for Late Spring.

You perhaps have never had the opportunity to plan for Spring Dress-up Day from selections of such beautiful things to wear. The styles, the fabrics and the colors all add their share of interest. There is new apparel, for instance of rich, colorful silk, hats in unique shapes that sparkle with color; frocks of beautiful fabrics and most becoming lines; and accessories of distinction that give the finishing touch to the Easter costume.

Medical Missionary Delivers Lectures

Robert H. H. Goheen, a medical missionary of considerable note, delivered several interesting addresses at the college last week. Mr. Goheen is a graduate of the University of Chicago, of Rush Medical College, and of the London School of Tropical Diseases. Mr. Goheen has spent the past sixteen years in the wilds of India. He was invited to speak here by the Student Volunteer Organization.

Mr. Goheen's first address was to the pre-medical students on the subject of "Parasitology and Tropical Diseases." On Thursday night he addressed the members of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. on "The Life of Woman in India." The third talk was to Dr. Geiger's class in Contemporary Civilization on the subject

"Social and Religious Conditions in India."

Friday morning Mr. Goheen conducted the chapel exercises. He read as the scripture lesson part of the Gospel of St. Mark, calling especial attention to the importance of service to others.

Mr. Goheen presented in a most graphic manner the work of a missionary, especially in the medical branch; and the great need for workers in this field. Men of every profession are needed. No man is too good, too highly educated, or too skilled for such work, he said. He gave to the students a higher conception of missionary work, and a greater inspiration for service to others.

U. T. S. Game

In a game featured by the brilliant box work of "Flickie" Harwood, the Indians took their second game of the year from the Union Theological Seminary nine by the score of 4-0. Harwood held the Theologians helpless for nine innings, allowing two hits, and walking but one man. Only twenty-nine men faced him, and fifteen went out via the strikeout route.

The preachers threatened to score but once, in the second frame. With two men down, Pritchard walked. Sullivan hit to deep left center. Cobb, by some fast fielding, got the ball on the rebound from the fence, and pegged perfectly to Lowe at third. Lowe's throw to Chandler caught Pritchard at the plate. From the second inning on, the visitors failed to pass first base, and but one of them was lucky enough to get there.

The Indians had difficulty in fathoming the slow curves tossed up by Wilkinson. They had men left on bases in every inning but one.

The first counter came in the third frame. Lowe doubled to left field, and scored on Cobb's single over second. Two more were added in the fifth, when Cooke doubled, and scored on Lowe's single. The third sacker took second on his hit when the visiting left gardener erred. Cobb fanned, but Chandler, J., came through with a double that scored Lowe. The last

LET'S HAVE SOME "PEP"

We have been in a quandary as to the reason for the absolute muteness on the part of the students at the two first baseball games of the year. This has been noticeable to great extent. The team has noticed, and the old timers (not necessarily members of the faculty) have noticed it. It's up to the students to exhibit a little "pep" at the games.

Perhaps it is due to lack of leadership! But are crowds at other ball games outside the collegiate sphere led by cheer leaders? Perhaps it is due to discomfort caused by the straight benches and the intense heat! But what of the men on the field. They are not being remunerated for their work, not even by a tiny rah-rah from their supposed backers. Perhaps it is due to lack of interest! But the team is winning, it looks like anything but an "also-ran." Anybody, we say, who can't get interested should seek education elsewhere.

We have reached no conclusion and no reason for this lack of spirit. The fault lies with the students, individually. Hereafter, they should wax merry in the grandstand, and back the ball team.

ON SECURING TUCKER JONES

The college is to be heartily congratulated on securing a man of Tucker Jones' type to head the department of physical education. He has proved himself as a trainer of men and women. His work, we believe, will reach all over the State of Virginia, and through it, Virginia's son and daughters will be better men and women, physically and morally.

In addition to that, he will prove a powerful factor in the building up of intra-mural athletics at William and Mary, in the development of track men, and coaching the basketball team.

BACK THE TRACK TEAM

We have noted with joy the efforts being made to develop a real track team at William and Mary. This branch of sport has been long neglected at the college, and has, we believe, caused many a prospective student to go elsewhere.

Track has been heretofore cast aside and all interest in the spring season centered in baseball. That was a reasonable cause when the college boasted of only two hundred students. Now that Alma Mater has grown and increased in every healthy way, it is but fair to the students that track be made a real major sport. With few students, the interest of all could be centered in base ball. With over six hundred it is hard to do this. Track offers an outlet for many a student's pant up athletic proclivities which could not be spent on the base ball diamond.

To Coach Gooch, Captain "Scrap" Chandler, and the members of the track squad, the Flat Hat wishes luck. May their commendable efforts meet the success they merit.

Philo's Meeting

The Philomathean Literary Society held a very good meeting on last Saturday night. I. H. White gave a practical talk on "Why don you go to church." Derfingler has a splendid voice and his declamation was good. Gilbert shows a talent in presenting humorous sketches and his declamation "Fare yo' well, Bro' Jonson" was quite interesting. Killanger read with good expression. Dr. McLeod, an honorary member, favored the society with a short, piquant selection on the mystery of life from "If Winter Comes."

The debate was impromptu, the question being, "Resolved: That there should be separate dining halls for the boys and girls at William and Mary." Much spirit was manifested on this subject and some very good points were brought out. All the speeches were short and peppy; so that ten or fifteen men were able to appear: It has been a long time since such an interesting and lively debate has been given.

Four men were added to the roll: C. R. Hoskins, Jr., E. R. Rogers, H. N. Barnette, and J. E. Mayo.

Phoenix Meeting

The meeting of the Phoenix Literary Society last Saturday was one of the most enjoyable and interesting of the year.

The program was featured with violin selections by C. H. Harrison, and declamations by Reed, Brauer, and F. F. Chandler. The three declamations were good, and showed marked improvements in the work of the society. Others who appeared on the program creditably were J. G. Pollard, Jr., Ambler, Powell, and Simms.

The Phoenicians are very enthusiastic over their literary work. They are planning to cop the honor of representing the college in the State Oratorical Contest.

An Ancient Structure

The President's House was begun July 31, 1732, and its walls are one hundred and ninety years old. The building was badly damaged in 1781, while occupied by French soldiers in the Yorktown campaign. Louis XVI of France restored it out of the proceeds of a bill of exchange given by the French army.

The house, when built, cost 650 pounds, a startling comparison, when it is remembered that its repairs will amount to about $10,000. It was three stories high, and built of Flemish bond brick. The original walls still stand, and much of the original woodwork is intact.

Harding Guest There

The house was first occupied by President James Blair, and has been occupied since that time to this by the college presidents. President Harding was a guest there last Fall, when he attended the installation of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler as President of William and Mary.

GET ONE OF THESE

The college librarian has received a supply of pamphlets, handsomely illustrated, on the naval engagement between the Virginia Merrimac) and the Monitor—the first engagement between ironclad vessels in history. These pamphlets are to be distributed among the students and citizens of the State, if there is any demand for them. Any students, or outsiders persons, desiring a copy should either ask the librarian for one, or write him.

Enjoyable Dance

A large number of students attended an informal dance given in Jefferson Hall last Saturday night. The dance was greatly enjoyed by those present. Music was furnished by Miss Keister, aided by Ammons, Green, and Phillips, and was of high order.

Among the devotees of the "light fantastic" present was Dr. John Garland Pollard, who threw a thrill into many a fair co-ed's heart. It is the hope of the students that more of the faculty members will attend the dances and other social affairs given by the student body.

With The Poets and Wags

THE CALL OF THE WILD

Out upon the campus grasses,
Sitting in the evening shade,
I was thinking of my classes,
And if I could make the grade.

All my thoughts were way off
yonder,
Everything was miles away,
Like they are when mind does
yonder,
Over things of yesterday.

Something touched me on my shoulder,
It gripped me like an iron band,
Seeing it, my brow grew colder,
'Twas the grip of Billup's hand.

'Twas the hand that rang the class
bell,
'Twas the hand that swept the hall,
'Twas the sounding of my death
knell
The Dean had sent forth his call.

Calling those who'd failed to finish,
Calling those who'd also ran,
How I felt my frame diminish,
Before that great and learned man.

As I had made each willing promise,
As I signed away my life,
Little did I dream that harness
Couldn't be severed with a knife.

I have worked, and toiled and pondered,
Oh, the fears that I have shed,
Now 'tis true, as I have wondered,
A bad named dog is better dead.
—H. T. M.

"EVERYBODY WRITE"

1

To class came Dr. Hall one day,
His face was clear and bright.
He bowed his head, then loudly said,
"Now everybody write."

2

It took us by surprise, you know,
We didn't know a thing.
He shot the questions thick and fast,
And loudly did they ring.

3

Oh! why, oh! why, did I last night,
Go over to Jefferson Hall.
I should have stayed at home, you bet,
And studied my lessons all.

4

He picked my paper from the rest,
While I was heard to groan.
"No more I'll go to Jefferson Hall;
I'll stay at home and B-O-N-E."

—D. A. J.

THE SHIFTLESS "SHIFTERS"

Now I have a little question,
I would like in you to rub.
Do you know just what's the idea,
Of this silly Shifters Club?
"I'm sure I do not know," you say,
Well, neither then do I.
But they surely show up striking,
When we see them marching by.
They took in quite a number,
On the campus called your own,

And I saw them smiling slightly,
With a tiny little groan.
So if you know what's good for you,
Put on your hat and block it.
By turning your back on such a club
Means money in your pocket.
—D. A. J.

ENTERTAIN AT MUSICAL

Miss Gallagher and the women at the Practice House on Jamestown Road were the hostesses for last Sunday's musical. With Caruso as the theme of the afternoon, the program was particularly interesting. Many of his records were played, and Mrs. Hodges told some interesting things about the famous singer's life. Miss Scott told the story of the opera, Aida.

LIBRARY TO BE ADDED TO

It will be of interest to the students to learn that a Richmond architect visited the library a few days ago with a view of drawing plans for the addition to the building which is to be constructed this summer, with the $25,000 given to the college for this purpose by the Carnegie Endowment Corporation.

practice that Colby has gained in the cross-country trip of its debate team, on which it has encountered eight institutions in joint debate.

Dr. J. G. Pollard presided and introduced the respective debaters; he also introduced Professor Herbert C. Libby, Litt., D., head of the department of public speaking and coach of the Colby debate team. Professor Libby entertained the audience while the judges retired, with an account of the 3500 mile trip his team will have taken on again reaching Waterville, Maine, where Colby is located. The judges were Messrs. W. S. Copeland, Charles C. Berkeley, and R. P. Holt, editor, lawyer, and banker, respectively, all of Newport News.

The debaters were limited to twelve minutes in their main speeches with five minutes for rebuttal. The closing speakers were allowed seven minutes, however, in which to close the argument for their side. The interest shown in the audience was at all times great, and those attending were treated to a rare display of forensic ability. The arguments of Mr. Wolstenholme for Colby were especially convincing, while the oratory of Mr. Dickinson for William and Mary deserves mention.

The other members of Colby's team are Leonard Withington Mayo, and Clyde Edward Russel, who were present but did not participate in the debate.

Dickinson and Duke are in no way discouraged by their defeat, but on the other hand expect to be much better fitted for their encounter with Richmond College the coming Tuesday.

After the debate an informal gathering was held in the library where an opportunity was given all present to meet the members of the Colby debating team.

Women's Council Elects Officers

Some of Contests For Places On Council Resulted In Close Votes

The Women's Student Government Organization met Tuesday, April 4, to elect officers for the coming year. Nominations for president were made by secret ballot, and the three names receiving the highest number of votes, Elise Eades, Elizabeth Smith, and Julia Duncan, were then voted on. Elise Eades won out by a large majority. Nominations for the other offices were made from the floor. Elizabeth Mercer was elected for vice-president over Lois Robinson; Elizabeth Kent, secretary, over Julia Dixon, in a close race; Mildred Vaiden, treasurer, against Anita Rucker and Julia Dixon; first student member, Lois Robinson, over Elizabeth Smith and Julia Duncan; second student member, Helen Lannigan, running against Elizabeth Smith and Julia Duncan; Jefferson Hall house-president, Elizabeth Smith, unanimously; Tyler Hall house-president, Miriam Winder; town representative, Charlotte Shipman. Tyler Annex postponed the election of their house-president until Wednesday night.

BOOST THE BAND

The college band needs boosters, it is claimed.

Due to a late start the band has not yet reached a point of perfection which warrants public appearance. However, one hundred and twenty dollars worth of instruments have been ordered, and five new members added to the corps, bringing the total membership to fifteen.

Daily practice by the individual members and regular weekly practices as a unit is being indulged in at present. With members of the band earnestly at work, and support from the students, William and Mary should soon have a splendid band available for athletic meets and the like, it is thought.

Students at the University of Amsterdam, Holland, have organized a series of lectures on the liquor problem. Professors of the university are the speakers.

PRESIDENT'S HOUSE THREATENED BY FIRE

college hose on the blaze. But for the timely action of the students, it is believed the flames would have completely destroyed the ancient old home.

Some of the students lent valuable aid to the city fire department, besides their work in saving the contents of the house. The Chief of the local department was overcome by smoke while on the roof, and Jack Knight, a student, "carried on" with the hose.

Duke and Chandler Lose All

Probably the heaviest loss sustained, besides that to the college on account of damages to the building's interior, was that of Charlie Duke and Joe Chandler, who occupied the third floor of the building. Both lost practically all their personal effects.

Mrs. Radcliffe, the housekeeper, was in the house at the time of the fire, and turned in the alarm. Carroll Chandler, son of the president, was on the third floor, and had to fight his way down the blazing stairs.

Dr. Chandler was in Boston at the time of the fire, and was immediately notified.

The house was remodeled inside in 1919, and was said by those who have viewed it to be one of the most beautiful homes in the State.

Man-Made Lightning

FRANKLIN removed some of the mystery. But only recently has science really explained the electrical phenomena of the thunderstorm.

Dr. C. P. Steinmetz expounds this theory. Raindrops retain on their surfaces electrical charges, given off by the sun and other incandescent bodies. In falling, raindrops combine, but their surfaces do not increase in proportion. Hence, the electrical pressure grows rapidly. Finally it reaches the limit the air can stand and the lightning flash results.

And now we have artificial lightning. One million volts of electricity—approximately one fiftieth of the voltage in a lightning flash—have been sent successfully over a transmission line in the General Engineering Laboratory of the General Electric Company. This is nearly five times the voltage ever before placed on a transmission line.

Much valuable knowledge of high voltage phenomena—essential for extending long distance transmission—was acquired from these tests. Engineers now see the potential power in remote mountain streams serving in industries hundreds of miles away.

Man-made lightning was the result of ungrudging and patient experimentation by the same engineers who first sent 15,000 volts over a long distance thirty years ago.

"Keeping everlastingly at it brings success." It is difficult to forecast what the results of the next thirty years may be.

Pictures at the Palace Next Week

SHOWS AT 4, 7, 8:30 P. M.

Dorothy Phillips, one of the most popular and versatile women in the cinema world, comes to the Palace next Monday in one of her best pictures, "Once to Every Woman," the show which has proved popular everywhere it has been shown. She is supported by an admirable cast.

TUESDAY

Moonlight brought to notice the hiding place of the will of the Seigneur of Pontiac, a village in Canada, when Madelinette Lajeunesse, married to Louise Racine, supposed heir of the Seigneur, sitting alone in the library of the Siegneury, noticed for the first time a small button on the frame of the big painting of the former master. The young bride pressed the button and presto! the canvas rolled up, disclosing the document. For the rest of the remarkable story, the reader is referred to "The Lane That Had No Turning," which comes to the Palace Theatre next Tuesday. Agnes Ayres is the star of this Paramount picture. A sterling cast, including Theodore Kosloff, Mahlon Hamilton, Frank Campeau and others appear in the important roles.

WEDNESDAY

Ethel Clayton, popular Paramount Star, who recently has been seen in several society dramas in which she wore some of the most gorgeous creations in feminine wearing apparel ever designed, plays the neatly tailored office girl and later the economical housewife, in her latest starring vehicle, "Her Own Money," which opens at the Palace Theatre next Wednesday.

Miss Clayton is seen as a stenographer who marries an extravagant real estate agent, and as his wife makes personal sacrifices and practices the strictest economy in order to balance his indiscretions as a spender.

THURSDAY and FRIDAY

Mae Murray, star of "Peacock Alley," the Tiffany production for Metro presented by Robert Z. Leonard, to be shown at the Palace Theatre next Thursday and Friday, says that the picture would be absolutely censor proof if there were any "absolute" in censorship.

"It is not milk and water proof, however, but a photoplay that sparkles with the champagne of the Paris restaurants and grows giddy with the night life pocket flasks of New York," she continued.

"In picturing these things we seek merely to 'hold the mirror up to nature, just as we do in picturing the contrasting scenes in a 'Main Street' Indiana town and in a poetically idyllic village of Normandy.

SATURDAY

Tom Mix, the William Fox star, has picked a strong cast to support him in his latest picture, "The Night Horsemen," which will be shown at the Palace Theatre next Saturday. May Hopkins is his leading woman. The others in the cast are Harry Lonsdale, Joseph Bennett, Sid Jordan, Bert Sprotte, C. Anderson, Lon Poff and Charles K. French.

"The Night Horsemen" is a sequel to "The Untamed" and both are based on Max Brand's novel "Wild Geese," which attained great popularity.

JONES HEADS A NEW DEPARTMENT

The announcement caused a mild sensation not only locally, but throughout the State. It is known that the Williamsburg institution negotiated for his services for the last two years, and this year Mr. Jones has been lecturing at William and Mary on physical education every Saturday.

City Loses Valuable Man

In losing Tucker Jones, the Richmond public school system will lose a man who has devoted twelve years in elevating physical education to its highest planes, as well as advancing all athletics. He has trained and developed such stars as Bill Wharton, Ollie Devine, Bill Pettway, Pat Carroll, Ed Ryder, Horace Hicks, Tyson, Sleepy Holliday, Blankenship, Sid Sands, Ralph and Turner Bethel and host of others. In 1920 he developed the best high school basket ball five every known in the history of the game in the State, and it is expected that he will turn out classy teams at William and Mary.

A native of Virginia, Mr. Jones is a graduate of New York University. Every summer he goes to Columbia to teach Swedish gymnastics there. He is a man of high type and pleasing personality.

won by "Scrap" Chandler, captain of the squad.

Hicks led the field in the high jump, Young in the pole vault, Todd in the shot put, Joyner with the javelin, and Potter in the discus. Williams led a slow field in the two mile run.

Point scorers were as follows: Dietz, 20; Chandler, 10; Young, 9 1-3; Potter, 9; Metcalf, 9; Cobb, 8; J. Todd, 6; Lohr, 6; Hicks, 6; G. Todd, 5; Williams, 5; Joyner, 5; Winder, 4 1-3; Anderson, 3; Clarke, 3; Harwood, 3; Hoskins, 3; Sorg, 2 1-3; Hastings, 2; Moore, 1; Sims, 1; Lash, 1.

Weekly meetings to study the problem of alcoholism are held at Queens University, Belfast, Ireland. Similar groups meet at the University of Basel, Switzerland, the University of Brussels, Belgium, the University of Tübingen, Germany, and at universities in several other European countries.

"A college cannot make brains; it merely trains them. It usually makes a smart man smarter, and a fool a bigger fool."
